Description:
The GAPP workshop is a summer workshop that prepares future physical therapy, physician assistant, medical, and dental students for the pace, content, and volume of a health professional gross anatomy course.

Requirements/Eligibility:
- Open to students who have been accepted to, but not yet entered, Physical Therapy, Physician Assistant, Medical, or Dental School. Documentation of acceptance is required.
- Preference will be granted to pre-physical therapy students accepted to UMES.
- A maximum of 32 students will be accepted.

Objectives: The participants shall:
- Experience the principal methods by which gross anatomy is taught in most health professional curricula.
- Study the anatomical structure and function of the thorax and lower extremity through lecture, readings, dissection of a cadaver, and the utilization of models, skeletal materials, and videos. Pre-dental students will have the option of studying the face, parotid and temporal regions of the skull instead of the thorax.
- Learn and apply effective and productive study skills and learning methods. A brief discussion of learning and teaching styles will be presented. This will include discussion of study/learning resources, disarticulated skeletons, flash cards, coloring books, and how to use the textbook and atlases.
- Experience typical oral and written quizzes and written and practical examinations on the subject matter.

Faculty:

Cindy Holder Gill, PT, DScPT, MEd

Dr. Gill coordinates and teaches the workshop. Dr. Gill has been teaching Gross Anatomy at UMES since 1993. She received her Bachelor's in Physical Therapy from the Medical College of Virginia and Masters in Exercise Physiology from the University of Virginia. She earned her Doctor of Science in Physical Therapy at the University of Maryland Baltimore. Her teaching responsibilities include Gross Anatomy to PT & Physician Assistant students, and Kinesiology to the PT students.

The UMES PT Program:

The Physical Therapy program, established in 1981, at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore, is a post-baccalaureate entry-level program leading to a Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) degree. The program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education. Visit www.umes.edu/pt for more information.

The University:

UMES is a land grant, historically black university founded in 1886. It became part of the University of Maryland System in 1970. It is approved by the State of Maryland and fully accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.
